

I am honoured to be invited to conduct a lesson in a renowned middle school in Guangzhou, China. The experience has indeed been a real eye-opener. Not only were the students well-behaved in class, but they also demonstrated exceptional learning attitude and confidence in using the language. They actively participated in the class activities and frequently answered questions. Their range of vocabulary is also impressive. I find this lesson demonstration enjoyable and inspiring.

Miss Holly Ho

I was delighted when given the opportunity to give a demonstration of my English Language teaching style at such a prestigious school as The Middle School Attached to Sun Yat Sen University. I was, naturally, apprehensive on arriving there as I knew the students had only just entered the secondary school. However, I was both surprised and inspired by the good manners, confidence and class spirit of the group I was assigned to teach, not to mention their excellent responses in English. I thoroughly enjoyed the lesson, and I might guess from the looks on the students' faces that they did too!
